LUMIBIRD FURTHER STRENGTHENS ITS PRESENCE IN SCANDINAVIA WITH THE ACQUISITION OF ITS DISTRIBUTOR ESSMED

The LUMIBIRD Group, the European leader for laser technologies, is announcing its acquisition of the Swedish company EssMed AB, specialized in distributing high-quality medical devices for ophthalmology, on July 31, 2020. EssMed is present in Sweden, Finland and Norway, with revenues of around €2m.

With this acquisition, LUMIBIRD is looking to further strengthen the commercial presence of Quantel Medical and Ellex products in Scandinavia. LUMIBIRD is also taking on the distribution of third-party products, which complement the Group's solutions, giving it a stronger position with end clients.

In addition to integrating distribution margins, LUMIBIRD aims to rapidly ramp up its revenues across the region through a direct sales force and vital technical and clinical support for deploying Group or third-party products.

The Group is replicating what it has already achieved in the countries where it has a direct presence: France, Poland and now Australia, Germany, the US and Japan.
